* Dr. China was a strange man, demanding punctuality at all times among other things. In Jan. 1924 his wife, Louisa + daughter went to a movie + were late returning. He admitted the child but locked the door on his wife. She spent the night in the litter cold on the porch. He admitted her early in the morning (to avoid neighbors seeing her). She got pistol + shot him. The child testified in the matter + he was acquitted of premeditated murder in the 1st degree.

My mother's words - Oct. 1952 - Aged 79 years.

Bradwell - Bradwell

DONE JTP

" Bradwells came from Wade Co. Va. and were connected with Byrd family on his mother's side, she being Eliza McKennedy Byrd. He emigrated to Edgefield S.C., with Caldwells etc, and tombstones are in Methodist Churchyard. same burying ground as Ella (Cousin Nell) Lindsay Boatwright Rein.

My parents married in a home on Winthrop Rd. My mother's Parisian wedding dress and veil of orange blossoms, with veil (gift from a friend (PRESTON) who was fiance died) and her portraits & bridal and little girl were burned in Columbia by Sherman's troops.

My father, Jas. D. Bradwell, was captain of S.C. governor's guards and as captain he presented to the company a gold medal in shape of a five pointed star, centered by a large white topaz, to be drilled for and awarded each year to best drilled man. Medal now in Historical Dept. of State House in Columbia, S.C.

He was graduated from U. of S.C. in 1830.

As a criminal lawyer he lost one case only. A yeddan was killed in the mountains for their wares. His body not found until the winters snow melted. The only witness a 12 year old boy, stuck to his story. Father (defense counsel) could not confuse him and Father lost the case.

The ivory miniature was painted in 1836 on ivory as thin as a finger nail. The original frame was gold and beautiful. As a little girl, in our poverty during the reconstruction, and following it, my mother sent me, with the frame, to a pawn shop where I was given #5.00 for it, too poor to buy it back.

My father ceased practicing law at about 70 years of age, or less, as professional men were deprived of their rights during reconstruction and there was no law enforcement. These restrictions and his inability to support his family in dignified manner made him melancholia. My mother, a beautiful resourceful woman, was our only means of support and a home, food and clothing. She opened a small store, had cow, and some of his "white folks", to provide some food. "

" My mother, Nina E. Bradwell McIntosh, said that when she was in Citizen, S.C., as a little girl she used to see Grandfather Washington Wade's Seminole Indian Company uniform laid out on the bed for him to don when he went to collect his pension. "

SAVE JTP

Reuben Brademell (no I) was a private and lieutenant in Gen. Francis Marion's Swamp Foxes and served three years. A pension was granted his widow, Mrs. Amelia D. Brademell (no I) under the act of July 7, 1838, by Sec. of War, J.R. Poinsett, examined and countersigned, Book of Pensions "A", volume 2, page 204, by D.B. Brown, clerk. Said pension certificate now in possession of Mrs. J.M. Aldrich of Michigan City, Ind. Mrs. Aldrich, nee' Eliza Allison Brademell (3rd no I), was the great-granddaughter of Reuben and Amelia Brademell. The pension was granted Nov. 7, 1840.

In addition to this Jas. G. Glass (no I) states he has the following certificate from his great-uncle, Francis Asbury Brademell (#4 on no I) at that time 83 years old, under date of Sept. 15, 1896, State of S.C., County of Sumter, City of Sumter, "I hereby certify that my grandfather, Reuben Brademell, was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, that he served in Gen. Francis Marion's Army and was honorably discharged at the end of the War. This I had from my grandfather's own lips, having personal knowledge of them." Signed - Francis A. Brademell

Mrs. Eliza Brademell Davis (no. 1, of no I) sister of Francis A. Brademell stated to me May 1897, "Reuben Brademell was a lieutenant in Marion's Army." Taken from Jas. G. Glass' (no I) (S.A.R.) application. Reuben Brademell was born in Virginia, James River, 1751, died in Rutherford County, N.C., 29th of May, 1833.

Edmund P. Davis is great-grandson of Benj. Brademell (#5, no I) and (Cousin Eli) descendant of Daniel Byrd

Daniel Byrd? served in Col. Anderson's Militia in Orangeburg District, S.C. in 1782, as evidenced by Stub entries & Indents for Revolutionary Claims, page 38, Book N.W. published by A.S. Salley Jr. for Secy. of Historical Commission of S.C. 1918, and evidenced by Paid Secy. from records in his office.

Wm Brademell's? name on Palmetto monument in State House grounds, Columbia, S.C. Died of yellow fever in Vera Cruz, Mexico, 1848.

(#1, no II) Aunt Lucile (Brademell) married a German, Gustave Bernard of Baltimore, Md. He deserted her before Frances (#2, no II) birth. Grandmother Emma Brademell (#3 - no II) joined Aunt Lucile in Baltimore and they lived there about 7 years, to qualify for Aunt Lucile's divorce.

Bradwell Notes.

My mother (#3, no II) and father (#1, no II) were married in Danville, Va. Mother, teaching and boarding in Columbia, S.C., had no home in which to hold a wedding and they insisted a great one. Mother went on train to get to Baltimore to join granny and Aunt Lucie for her vacation. She carried Alice for daddy to join her was Danville, then she went on to Baltimore. She told no Mc Intosh relatives as she had no place to entertain them. When the newspaper in Columbia "leaked" word of the marriage, she joined daddy in Columbia. years later, in fact in 1950s, while I was living in Eustis, Fla, an elderly neighbor upon learning my parentage remarked, "I knew your parents when they were married. I was a school superintendent. Your mother was the most beautiful young woman in Columbia - no one could ever forget her beauty, who was privileged to know her. She was an excellent teacher, too."

James Bradwell, (#5 no II), buried his children who died in infancy, two of diptheria, in Methodist churchyard - also his daughter, Elizabeth Janet (#6, no II) and Uncle Hugh, (#7, no II)

Many Bradwell's rattled in Edgefield, S.C. My mother thinks the change in spelling of name from Bradwell to Bradwell occurred in their father's (#5, no II) childhood because of a quarrel between his father (#5, no I) Benjamin and a brother. She doesn't know the cause of the quarrel.

Granny (xxx no III) told my mother that the Miss Patterson who married Jerome Bonaparte was her cousin thru the Mezicks.

Granny (xxx no III) attended Abramville Academy for Young Ladies run by a Frenchman, out in the Randhills country.

The cameo we have belonged to Granny (xxx no III). When Sherman burned Columbia the family fled to the hills. Their trusted colored butler hid the silver in use in the ground near a snake fence but it was gone when they returned. Either someone saw him hide it or a soldier found it. Fallen ware, of which there was much, as grandfather often refused payment for his care, and loved the fine dishes, bring-ups, etc, the butler had cared for and returned but it was all stolen by a Northern officer skilletted on them. years later some spoons with her initial were found at meat, recognized and brought by a friend and returned to Granny. A negro man and woman stole Granny's lacer and a shawl - grandfather recognized them and chased them.

Reconstruction was a sad time.

* Later it was discovered that his career was ruined.

Gregg came to Londonderry, Ireland, from Scotland shortly after Cromwell's time. The first of [illegible] family was Capt. David McGregor, murdered by Catholics. Presumably [illegible] and 3 brothers. Two of his sons, James and Joseph came to U.S. First record of John is 7/3/1752, petition for one John Atkins in 1735-36, still living in Sumter (Gen. Neal's office) 1350 acres - died 1775 - will mentioned wife Eleanor, 3 sons + 4 daughters.

The Greggs figured prominently in S.C. politics, in Senate and House, as did the McIntoshes and Caldwells.

James Gregg 1787-1852, member of S.C. Ho. 1813 1822-1846 of Richland Co. gave the land for Trinity Episcopal Church, Columbia, S.C.

Original Alexander Dunlap I and a brother were given land grants for service in the Revolution. Alexander built the first two-story log house in Woodford Co., Ky (1780) in which (remodelled as the years passed) his children and above seven grandchildren were born. The farm, "The Pastures", 780 acres has descended to a Dunlap, still inhabited by grandson of Branham who died in 1971. The original building burned in 1935 but all doors, windows, sills, and furniture were saved. joists + rafters 12" hickory.

*+ Earl Harris died in Cabanatuan Prison Camps, Philippines in World War II. He refused to accompany Billie Harris xxx, son of brother Field, also a Japanese prisoner in escape attempt because of his (Earl's) age. Billy was again taken prisoner and the first load of him the family had was his appearance on Battleship Missouri at signing of the peace treaty at War's end.

xxxx Brother of Belle and Lena Field was Sue Mary Higbee, a Cousin of Ellison Arnett (No IX)
